PETECIAL TELEGRAR TO THE DISPATOR. BUTLER, April 9.-Lewis Patterson, s prominent and wealthy farmer living near Centerville, this county, was robbed last night by three masked men. There was nobedy in the house with him at the time but his mother, 80 years old. She heard a noise and called to him. He turned toward the window and saw three men, who called to him to come out. Upon refusing they burst in the door, and as the first man entered Patterson felled him with a poker. The othersoverpowered him, however, and dragging him barefooted to the bara threatened to hang him if he refused to tell them where he kept his gold. When he declared he had none they placed the rope around his neck. but as he still persisted that he had no money they concluded to torture him by roasting his feet at the fire in the house. He was taken back to the house and his feet and face burned. They then searched the house, and, after securing $43 in meney and Mr. Patterson's gold watch, departed, declaring that if he moved until they were gone one-half hour he would be shot dead. There is no positive ciew to the desperadoes, but every effort will be made to run them down. There is $''iirm determination among the citizens to prevent a series of Fayette county outrages from being perpetrated in this county. but as he still persisted that he had no money

THE SAME OLD STORY.

A Wenlthy Farmer $4.000 Out in a Little

Game of Bunko. Norristown, April 9.—In the latter part of July, 1888, Jacob B. Reiff, a retired wealthy farmer, at Center Square, this county, was fleeced out of $10,000 worth of bonds by a pair of bunke sharpers who had been negotiating with him for a week before, estensibly with a view to purchasing a farm in the neighborhood. The securities were principally certificates of the Cincinnati Southern Railroad, and were worth something less than their face value. Every effort was made to gain a clew to the

Every effort was made to gain a clew to the swindlers, but without success. About eight weeks ago farmer Reiff received a call from a well-dressed stranger, who, after exacting every promise of secress, represented to Reiff that he was a New York detective and could restore the bonds. He said a broker of his acquaintance had bought them of the sharpers and wasafraid to sell them lest he be arrested for the swindle.

The price asked for the return of the stolen bonds was $8,000. Mr. Reiff declined to pay any such sum as this. Several consultations were held in the next few weeks and finally it was decided that if the farmer would pay $1,000, ask no questions and promise to make no effort to secure the arrest of the persons who had swindled him, the bonds would be restored. Mr. Reiff's counsel, it has been ascertained, went to New York recently with $4,000 of farmer Reiff's money in his pocket, met the self-styled detectives, signed the agreement of secrecy referred to and returned with the bonds, which are now safe in Reiff's possession.

THEIR RIGHT OF WAY. An Ohio Railrond Will Reclaim a Large Tract of Low Land.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. ZANESVILLE, O., April 8 .- The route of the Coshocton and Southern Railroad through the city has been a question of some anxiety to the residents of this city, but it has been solved by the company. A levce will be built down the the company. A levee will be built down the river bank which will place the road above high water mark. The building of the levee will open for settlement a large tract of land which has been too low for occupancy, and it is thought the company will derive a bonus from the owners of the land thus benefited, in addition to a free right of way.

The road is an extension of the Cleveland and Canton, which is controlled by Colonel Blood, of Boston, and is being built to connect with the coal roads entering this city.

Bullets Through a Window the Sequel to a Divorce Suit.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 AKRON, April 9.-David Tobin, living in Boston township, this county, was brought to this city to-day by officers charged with shooting at Robert Keeting with intent to kill. Keeting was sitting at home with a party of friends, when two bullets were fired through the window grazing his head.

A Church Destroyed by Fire.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 MANSFIELD, April 9 .- St. Peter's Catholic MANSFIELD, April 9.—St. Peter's Catholic Church was gutted by fire at 10 o'clock this morning. Only the bare walls are left standing and the congregation is $25,000 poorer than it was a day ago. The origin of the fire is only a matter of conjecture. The story generally believed is that the boys were careless with fire in the sacristy and that the charcoal they left set fire to the woodwork. Louis Matthes, a fireman, was severely injured by falling debria.

Just a Little Game of Cards.

SHAMOKIN, April 8.-Two strangers visited Daniel Keller's place to-day, and after a pro-posal to purchase his farm engaged the old farmer in a game of cards. Keller became infarmer in a game of cards. CHOCOLAT MENIER.

We take pleasure in announcing that we have secured the sole agency in Pittsburg for the worldfamous "CHOCOLAT MENIER," which has been before the public since 1828. It is undoubtedly the finest chocolate manufactured. The Menier Company own and control extensive cocoa plantations, operate an enormous sugar refinery near Paris, and employ 3,000 skilled laborers at their factory, This chocolate received the highest possible award (the Grand Prix) at the Paris Exposition of 1878, besides four awards at the Centennial. Its purity is absolute and beyond question. Its delicacy and flavor are without equal, and its merits, both as a confection and as a nutritious food, are acknowledged by physicians the world over. We propose to sell "Chocolat Menier" at a price never approached in Penn-
